#HelloYellow

On Friday 9th October we are going to support the above campaign by asking our children to wear something yellow to school. All we ask, is that you make a contribution to the cause but it is totally up to you what you want to give. We will split any donations with the Young Minds Campaign and our school resources that could help our children if they need some additional support to help them through a difficult time in their life. We know how passionate you are about your children and how generous you all are when we do any fundraising so thank you in advance for your support.
